Trio Dumps Beaten Man In L. Bucks

Police Say Leads Expected To Come In Few Days

Lower Southampton and State Police today are looking for two men who beat and robbed a Langhorne man of $2,000 near the Feasterville Inn early yesterday and dumped him on Churchville road.

The beaten man, Roy L. Earley, 25, of Langhorne, RD 2, told police he was attacked shortly after 1 a.m. by two taproom acquaintances and robbed of $2,000, most of which he won in a dice game.

State police reported this morning that there are no new developments in the case. Chief Edward Wunsch of Lower Southampton police said his force was working with State police in the investigation.

"It's one of those cases that needs a lot of digging," said Chief Wunsch. "We're investigating but it'll probably be a couple of days before something comes up."

Won Money

Earley, a steelworker employed by the National Tube Division at the Fairless Works, did not disclose where he had won $1800 of the $2000. He had $200 prior to the games, he told police.

He told State Troopers Duane C. Allen and Paul Fehr of the Fairless Hills barracks that he began drinking at the tavern at 11 p.m. Saturday, where he met three young men. The men invited him to go in their auto to several other taprooms, he said.

Beat Him

He told police that he and the others, whose names he did not know, visited the Skyway Grill in Middletown township and the Fair Oaks, a tavern in Pennel.

He was then driven back to the Feasterville Inn area, where, he reported, the driver stopped the car and, with one of the other men, beat him up, took his money and left him lying along the road. Earley said the third man was "asleep in the back seat."

The beaten man was discovered by a passing motorist and taken to Bristol township police headquarters where State police were notified.

He gave police a description of the men, which was sent out over eight-state area.

TV Diplomas For Prisoners

PITTSBURGH — UP — Educational television station QUED tonight presents high school diplomas to 46 students, including 16 inmates at local prisons.

Eleven of the graduates are confined at Western State Penitentiary. Five others are prisoners in Allegheny County Workhouse here. They won't be on hand for the televised ceremonies. They will be represented by Warden A. C. Cavell of the state prison.

QUED was the first educational TV station in the nation to offer high school diplomas through televised classes. In ceremonies last year, diplomas were awarded to 43 persons who completed courses prescribed by the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction.

United Fund Mobilizes For Kickoff

2-State Net Lands Catch Of Suspects

Lower Bucks County and Trenton police cooperated to round up a number of hold-up men who have been plaguing the two areas.

Trenton police last Friday arrested David Woodson, 29, a King's Farm worker who has been identified as one of the robbers of a Bristol Terrace grocery store and an Edgely service station in Bristol township, Tuesday night.

Then Saturday, Bristol township police picked up one of Woodson's companions who admitted taking part in a Trenton burglary. In the meantime a third man, who Bristol township police feel helped Woodson in the two local holdups, was arrested in Baltimore, Md., on an alarm sent out by Trenton police.

The arrests came in a crack down by Trenton police on suspected holdup men and burglars. They arrested four suspects for questioning on a burglary of a night club in Hamilton township, New Jersey.

The arrest of Woodson and his companions followed a 48-hour period in which Bristol and Falls township police kept his home under surveillance.

During that time they noticed that Lee "Buddy" Crowder, 18, and Robert Lee Crenshaw, 20, other King's Farm workers who lived nearby, were frequent visitors.

Car Spotted

Police began to suspect Woodson after getting a license number from a bus driver which he spotted on the holdup car as it fled from the Edgely service station of A. K. Margerum.

A car which fit the description given by the bus driver was parked

Good Evening!

Same Kind of a Monday.

Somebody's got to do something — eliminate either the weekends or the Monday afterward. That feeling may be a sign you're not as young as you think?

Over 16,000 new voters registered in Lower Bucks and it's nothing short of fantastic.

One thing for sure. There will be added spice to this election campaign just now really beginning to roll.

Eisenhower and Dulles reported taking initiative in trying to find some new formula to settle the Suez dispute.

No denying the fact, here is a beautiful spot for the U. S. to come up with a fast example of dynamic world leadership. Who knows? Maybe it will.

Interest in SKIL-WORD, that amazing new $50 weekly word-game contest in the Courier and the Times soaring as entries to the second brain-teaser continue pouring in.

If you haven't tried it, for heaven's sake, get going. Remember: entry deadline is Tuesday midnight; new puzzle will appear again Thursday; winner for last week's game will be announced Friday. Wonder who's going to get the next $50 check, anyhow?

The weather? We give up.

Just when we're all set for cool, crisp, frosty, exhilarating skies, the weatherman steps in with junk. But that's the way she goes, we guess.

Dodgers in front by a half game. Those battles tonight will be mighty important—all the way.

When you don't waste time wondering what makes the world go around, chances are you're one of those keeping it going.

There's a lot of good in everybody. Trouble is, some folks don't let it show.

Watch your driving.

Conferences For Training Are Listed

Partnership To Help People Is Stressed By Divisions

A partnership for helping people will be stressed by business and industry representatives at training conferences scheduled for September 24 at Pennsbury Inn, Morrisville, and Sept. 25 at Washington House Hotel, Sellersville, in behalf of the Bucks County United Fund.

The fund drive for $603,000 begins on Oct. 1.

Both sessions, beginning with a luncheon at noon, will be attended by co-chairmen from every major business and industry in the county participating in the management-employee solicitation plan.

Lower Bucks

Harold N. Crooker, Bristol, treasurer of the United Fund, will preside at the Lower Bucks conference, and Abram L. Mitman, vice president of the United Services Federation, parent organization of the Fund, will preside in upper county.

Guest experts and top United Fund officials will conduct indoctrination courses in methods of operation. George G. Gray, general campaign chairman, will address both groups. Frederick J. Garrity, assistant director of the Pennsylvania United Fund, will present an illustrated talk on the industrial solicitation plan.

Other features include remarks by Otto Grupp, III, and William Raundebush, Services Federation president, Harrison Erb and Jesse E. Daugherty, and John Lemmon, chairman of the upper county drive. A Red Feather slide presentation will be made by Olivia S. Miller, public relations director of the Fund.

Guests

Nations Plan Test Convoy Into Suez

Challenge Is Urged Before Traffic Ties Choke Canal

LONDON UP — The United States and Britain will ask the 18-nation second Suez conference Wednesday to agree to an immediate

READY TO HELP WASHINGTON UP — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles announced today that the United States is prepared to finance oil exports from this country to Western Europe in case that transit through the Suez Canal becomes "impractical."

He made the announcement to newsmen at the White House after conferring with President Eisenhower on the Suez crisis.

diatribe "test trip" into the Suez Canal as a direct challenge to Egypt, informed sources said today.

Britain wants the test to be a full convoy piloted by Westerners. The United States believes a single ship would be sufficient, the sources said.

But the two main sponsors of the "canal users association," according to the informants, are agreed that the challenge should be made quickly before accidents or pilot fatigue choke off traffic in the canal.

The first major slowdown of shipping since Western pilots resigned Friday was reported in the canal today. The report lent urgency to the Wednesday conference called in London to study the

School Bd. Ends Integration Try

CLAY, Ky. — UP — Four Negro students at elementary school here were turned away at the door today by the principal armed with an order from the Webster County school board.

A crowd of more than 50 persons, barred from the school grounds by National Guardsmen stationed there for nearly a week, cheered as the four pupils were turned away.

Negro students attended the school last week under escort and the protection of the guard. White pupils refused to accept the enforced integration and boycotted the school.

Wilbur Collins, superintendent of the Webster County school board, had ruled that the Negroes must go to the all-Negro Rosenwald school in Providence, Ky.

The school principal, Mrs. Irene Powell, read the resolution to the parents and the four Negro children as they arrived for classes this morning.

Five Survive Ship Tragedy

HARSTAD, Norway — UP — Five survivors of the American liberty ship Pelagia who landed in this tiny Norwegian fishing village said today there was no hope for 33 other men aboard the sunken ship.

The search went on, but the survivors said their's was the only lifeboat to be put down when the 7,238-ton Pelagia, laden with 10,000 tons of iron ore, broke in two in a gale and sank off Norway's rocky coast.

The five men were identified as Lawrence Reddies of Central City, Colo.; James Arnold of Baltimore; Demetrios Hadjiostas, a Greek-born American citizen of New York; Andreas Orphanos of New York; and Pedro Rodriguez of Baltimore.

With them was the body of Jean Lopez of Santiago, Puerto Rico. He had died of exposure in the icy waters above the Arctic Circle before the British trawler Northern Duke could reach their leaking lifeboat, guided by a U.S. Air Force search plane.

Hadjiostas told United Press there was the only lifeboat to (Continued on Page 3, Col. 7)

Still A Chance

Advertising space in the attractive program-brochure for Bristol's 275th founding anniversary celebration beginning October 14 has been all but reserved.

However, any firms and individuals who have not been contacted and desire to be represented in the program still have opportunity to do so.

A few pages have been reserved for late-comers. Those interested should call James Keegan, in charge of the advertising phase of the booklet, at Kemline, immediately.

Assessment Cases Slated

Appeals of 1956 tax assessments on the Fairless Works of U. S. Steel Corp., Thrimart and the Fairless Hills bowling alleys will be heard this week, the Bucks County Board of Assessment and Revision of Taxes announced this morning.

The steel plant appeal will be heard Friday, the appeals on the Thrimart and bowling lanes assessments on Thursday, the board said, in Doylestown.

The Falls township board of supervisors and school board are seeking to raise the assessments, joined by the township Democratic Club.

Chairman Milton Berkes, of the township supervisors, said the assessed market value of the steel mill should be $50,000,000 higher than its new assessed valuation (Continued on Page 3, Col. 5)

1500 Attend Picnic For Falls GOP

A crowd of 1500 men, women, and children attended the picnic of the Falls Township Republican Club yesterday at St. Francis Industrial School, Eddington.

The early morning rain and clouds that threatened the affair persisted so long that it was not until about 11 a.m. that Picnic Chairman James Paul decided not postpone it.

Sandwiches

Hot roast beef sandwiches were the main bill of fare, while popular diversions included group singing, sports and talking politics. Chairman Paul pitted his vocal chords against the voice of John J. McElhinney, campaign chairman for Assemblyman Candidate Rudolph Kraus, in a singing contest.

Crusade For Humanity Set To Go Oct. 1

Divisions To Meet In Last Two Weeks For Final Details

With only two weeks remaining until the Bucks County United Fund campaign for $603,000 begins, drive officials today meshed all efforts into high gear and began polishing off last minute details for the appeal.

A half dozen important meetings of key organizational personnel have been set up for next week and public spirited men and women by the hundreds are being enlisted in what has become a county-wide "crusade for humanity."

George E. Otto, United Fund president, today reiterated the urgent necessity of meeting the 1957 goal of $603,000 to finance the 17 welfare and character - building agencies of the fund and called on business, industry, and the public at large to join hands in making the October campaign the success it must be.

George G. Gray, general chairman for the campaign, in expressing gratification over ready response of public spirited volunteers, urged an early wrap-up of organizational effort so that all will be in readiness when first guns of the campaign are fired on Monday, October 1.

Much Activity

Three separate appeals will be conducted simultaneously in Lower Bucks, Central Bucks, and Upper Bucks. Mr. Gray expressed confidence that goals for each section of the county will be reached.

Meantime, preliminary activity in the Lower Bucks campaign is being stepped up as interest of both campaign workers and the public becomes more widespread.

A meeting of all Lower Bucks division chairmen will be Tuesday evening at 6:30, at Pennsbury Inn, when a thorough check on progress will be made.

On Wednesday morning at 8, newly-formed soliciting teams of the Industrial Division, of which Otto Grupp III is chairman, will meet at the Keystone hotel for a breakfast session.

Thursday at noon, Mrs. James Douglass, chairman of the Lower Bucks residential division, will be hostess at a luncheon at her home on Radcliffe street for her district chairmen.

James Logan, chairman of the Small Business division, has called a dinner meeting of his many community chairmen at Flannery's, Pennel.

Levittown Infant Is Saved By Squad

Fast action by the Levittown Emergency Squad saved the life of a nine-month-old Levittown girl. The infant, Christine Vandenberg, of 28 Aspen lane, suffered a heart attack about 6 p.m. Saturday.

Her parents called the squad, which is located nearby. A crew rushed to the home and revived the girl with oxygen administered through an acclimator.

Three Injured In 2 Crashes Within Hour

Three persons were injured and five cars damaged in two automobile accidents in Middletown Township within a half an hour Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Beverly Felkner, 29, of 3512 Llanberis avenue, Bristol Township, and her two-year-old son, Stanley, were treated at Lower Bucks County hospital for minor injuries, after their car crashed with another one on Durham road at Frosty Hollow road.

Mrs. Felkner was driving north on Durham road at 5:30 p.m. when a car driven south by John George, 43, of 740 Hulmeville road, Langhorne, attempted to make a left turn into Frosty Hollow road.

Hump In Road
Felkner told Middletown Patrolman Henry Bazarte that he didn't see the approaching car because of a hump in the road.

Mrs. Felkner and her son were released by the hospital after treatment. They were taken to the hospital by the Bucks County Rescue Squad.

A six-year-old girl, Marie Greeley, of 539 Julia lane, was also treated at the hospital for injuries she sustained in a three-car crash on Route 1 near Paris Inn, Parkland.

Third Car
She was riding with her father, John F. Greeley, 32, who had stopped behind another car. A third car, driven by Walter McFarland, 52, of 672 North Eleventh street, Philadelphia, struck the rear of Greeley's car and drove it into the car in front.

The first car, driven by Donald Little, 41, of 212 Coventry road, Fairless Hills, had stopped to allow an unidentified motorist to make a left turn, according to Patrolman Bazarte.

The cars driven by McFarland and Greeley were total wrecks, according to Bazarte, while damage to Little's auto was estimated at $150.

The Greeley girl was taken to the hospital by a passing motorist, George Bromley, of 3454 Lenape avenue, Trevose. Bazarte reported that McFarland will get a summons for driving too fast for conditions.

Western plan for a Suez Canal users association. Authoritative sources said the Big Three did not plan to draw up hard-and-fast proposals for the conference. They intend to allow the participating shipowner nations to frame the details on the conference floor.

A Temporary Expedient
The sources said the Western powers also consider the users association as a temporary expedient.

Experts estimated the association could be ready to challenge Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser with a test ship or convoy within a week after the conference here finishes work.

Of the 18 nations invited, 14 have accepted or indicated probable acceptance, although a number are reported wary of the Western plan. The latest "yes" came from Spain, which has been moving cautiously to avoid endangering its Arab interests.

The foreign ministers of Denmark, Sweden, and Norway agreed reluctantly to attend but said the issue is so grave it must be taken to the United Nations.

A British Foreign Office spokesman said Pakistan and Iran acceptances included reservations against any prior commitments.

Girl Named Minister By Witnesses

Doris Taylor, 623 Bath street, Bristol, announced recently her appointment as a full-time minister for the Watchtower Bible and Tract society, a world-wide fellowship of more than 600,000 ministers serving in over 160 lands.

Doris, who is a secretary, has been associated with the Levittown Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses for five years, during which time she has become a proficient student of the Bible. She is a graduate of Bristol High school, class of 1953, and also graduated from Rider's Business College in Trenton.

The Taylor family are long-time residents in Bristol and well known in the community. For some time now, their home at 623 Bath street has been a center for Bible study in this area. Doris' mother, Mrs. Evelyn Taylor, said, "Everyone interested in a study of the Bible is more than welcome to attend any Tuesday at 8:00 p.m."

Integration

The mother of the other two children, Mrs. Catherine Copeland, said she was also taking her children to the Providence school.

At these words, the crowd of 50 or 60 persons standing behind a line of Kentucky National Guardsmen drawn up along the front walk of the school, cheered and applauded.

Maj. Gen. J. J. B. Williams, state adjutant general commanding the guard troops, said his men will stay "for the time being."

The crowd dispersed and all but nine of the Guardsmen marched back to the bivouac area behind the school.

While children who have been boycotting the school since the Negroes entered under the guns of the Guardsmen last Wednesday immediately began filing back into the school building.

Open House Set With 1-Act Play

The traditional open house meeting for the Levittown Play-ers will take place at the group's meeting tomorrow night at 8:15 p.m. at the Fellsington Library. The first in a series of one act workshop plays will be presented. Everyone is invited to attend.

COUNCIL SESSION CALLED
A special meeting of Bristol Borough Council has been called to night to act on the sale of borough-owned land. Other matters are also expected to receive the attention of Council in the special session in the municipal building at 8 p.m.

L'town Squad To Move To New Headquarters

Site Behind Municipal Building

The Levittown Emergency Squad will move to a new temporary headquarters behind the Bristol Township municipal building, Holly drive, Levittown, this weekend. The building, formerly used by the Levittown Youth association has been made available to the squad by Levitt and Sons, Inc., on an "indefinite lease."

The squad has used the garage of Beck's Mortuary as its headquarters since it was formed over a year ago. But Alfred Volpe, squad president, said "We were just getting too big for our present quarters."

Own Building
He added that the new building, which squad members are renovating, will also be just a temporary building until the unit can provide a building of their own. He said work on the new building should be finished by this weekend when the move will be made.

The squad now has two ambulances and other first aid and life saving equipment. "We just don't have enough room for our equipment and members," Volpe said.

Membership Drive
At the same time he announced plans for an "all out membership drive."

Helmut Goerner has been named chairman of the drive. He said the squad needs drivers, nurses and first aid men and asked all those interested to contact Mrs. Lynore Feldman, 23 Basswood road, WI 5-1734.

Mrs. Feldman said shift workers are particularly invited to join. She said first aid classes are now starting. They will be held Wednesday evenings at Benjamin Franklin Junior High school. But Mrs. Feldman said special classes would be arranged for men working nights. She said that at present there are about 70 active members.

Flower Show Lists Winners

A list of prize winners at the fourth annual Levittown Garden Club flower show was released this morning by Mrs. Charles J. Hoyer, publicity chairman for the event.

The show was held recently in the Community Room at Pomeroy's in the Levittown Shopping Center.

According to Mrs. Hoyer, the attendance was "the best ever." Over 100 arrangements were displayed.

The winners in the various classes are as follows: Grand Sweepstakes: 1st, Mrs. Jeffery Radley, 45 Pencil lane, Levittown; 2nd, Mrs. Horace Allen, 45 Locust lane, Levittown; 3rd, Erdman Hoffman, 31 Edgewood lane, Levittown. Horticulture: 1st, Mrs. Horace Allen; 2nd, Mrs. Alfred Wisley, 15 Park lane, Levittown; 3rd (three way tie), Mrs. George Hopkins, 60 Nature lane, Levittown; Mrs. Richard Fitzpatrick, 28 Birch drive, Levittown; and Mrs. William Campbell, 82 Pine-wood drive, Levittown. Arrangement: 1st, Mrs. Jeffery Radley; 2nd, Erdman Hoffman; 3rd, Mrs. Walter Kirslein, 15 Pensive lane, Levittown.

Never in show before: Mrs. Horace Allen; Horticulture and Arrangement, Francis Lavaty, 186 Haines road, Edgely.

CHURCH PICNIC DINNER
The Morrisville First Presbyterian Church's Men's association will meet tomorrow on the church grounds for a picnic dinner, beginning at 6:30 p.m. A business meeting will follow the picnic and the film, "No Time For Sergeants," will be shown in Fellowship Hall.

Members of the Levittown Emergency Squad tear down a wall in an old building behind the Bristol Township municipal building off Holly drive, Levittown, which will be used as a new headquarters for the squad. The group now uses the garage of Beck's Mortuary, Red Cedar Hill, Levittown. The new building, formerly used as a meeting place by the Levittown Youth Association, should be ready by the end of this week.

O'Keefe Tells Of Plans For Brinks Job

BOSTON — UP — Joseph Specs O'Keefe testified today that accused Brinks leader Joseph McGinnis sent a man to the government patent office in Washington to unearth alarm plans of Brink's money vaults which were looted of $1,218,211 six years ago.

O'Keefe, confessed Brink's bandit who turned informer, said the man was sent by McGinnis early in 1949. However, O'Keefe quoted McGinnis as saying "The man couldn't do any good down there." The emissary was not identified. O'Keefe also described preparations made for the robbery on Jan. 17, 1950.

O'Keefe said the Brink's building on Prince street was "watched" nearly "all the time."

O'Keefe also testified that Anthony Pino, one of the eight defendants on trial for allegedly staging the robbery, complained that the gang was losing its "enthusiasm" for the holdup.

Pino told the gang, O'Keefe said, that "they needed to do more work."

Assessment

David Struble, former chairman of the township Democratic Club, said the tax assessment on the Fairless Hills Shopping Center should be $900,000 instead of its present $386,880.

Charges Are Filed In Bridge Crash

A reckless driving charge was filed against a Morrisville woman following a two-car collision that resulted in one of the cars smashing into a bridge shelter.

Mrs. Kathleen Lynch, 102 East Ferry road, Morrisville, was charged with reckless driving after she collided with a car driven by Charles W. Hamilton, Wick avenue, Titusville, N. J., Saturday, about 10:20 a.m. at the intersection of Calhoun street and Delmor avenue, Morrisville.

After the collision, Bridge Police said the Lynch car bounced over the curb and into the bridge shelter, where Officer Steve Turek was on duty.

Officer Turek said the accident occurred when the Lynch car, traveling South on the River road, attempted to make a left-hand turn on to the bridge approach and collided with the north-bound Hamilton car.

Police said the collision itself caused "minor" damages, but the Lynch car bounced off the other car and slammed over the curbing and into the left front side of the bridge shelter.

The car "demolished" the left side of the building, police said, "causing several hundred dollars damages." The ceiling and foundation were cracked, along with pushing in the left front wall of the building.

Police said there were no injuries and traffic was unharmed immediately.

Six Legion Posts To Seat New Officers

Six American Legion Posts will install new officers tonight in a joint ceremony at the Yardley American Legion Post Home.

The Posts are: Yardley, Falls Township 834, New Hope, Levittown 932, Levittown 960 and Cornwells Heights. The joint installation will be held at 8 p.m.

Howard Johnson, 413 Clymer avenue, Morrisville, newly elected by the Falls Post, will be installed as commander. He succeeds Gino Matozzi, of Fallsington. The new Fallsington officers were announced today by James Mitchell, publicity chairman.

Other new officers of the Falls Township Post are: Joseph Argenti, senior vice commander; Morris Appenzeller, junior vice commander; James J. Mitchell, Jr., sergeant-at-arms; Henry Clay, chaplain; Harry Chapin, adjutant; Pat Shisler, treasurer.

Executive committee: Lester Appenzeller, John Melvin, William Lobecker, Henry Clay, Joseph Argenti, Harry Chapin.

Announcing a new drive to increase the post membership to 150, Commander Johnson said he has vowed not to shelve until the goal is reached.

Hearings Set After Fight

Cross-charges were filed against Harry Drago, 691 Dolora drive, Grandview Estates and William Zeller, 693 Dolora drive, Grandview Estates, Morrisville, after police answered a disorderly conduct call, Friday.

Morrisville Police Chief John S. Davis, said that the two neighbors were fighting when they arrived, at approximately 5:50 p.m. Friday. Chief Davis said the fight started when Drago charged Zeller with allowing his dog to tear the dress of Drago's child. Zeller was charged with allowing his dog to run at large, violating a borough ordinance, and Drago was charged with disorderly conduct.

Cross-summons were signed by the respective parties and the hearings will take place tonight at 7 and 7:30 p.m. before Justices of the Peace Harry Christ, and Neal Nolan.

Man Paroled In Burglary

Angus D. MacLennan, 13th street and Lake road, Burlington, was paroled this morning in Bucks County court after serving three days in county prison on a burglary conviction.

MacLennan, who pleaded guilty Friday to burglarizing Mike's Esso Service Station, Route 13 and Edgely avenue in Bristol Township, on May 10, was sentenced to three days to 11 months in county prison.

He stole $62.90

Falls Police To Get Flag

Falls township American Legion Post 834 will soon obtain a flag that flew over the National Capitol in Washington, D. C., and present it to the township police department.

The flag is being obtained for the Legionnaires by Rep. Karl C. King (R. Bucks-Lehigh), of Falls township.

James Mitchell Jr., sergeant-at-arms of the Fallsington post, said the presentation to the police will be "in appreciation of the fine services they have rendered to the community of Falls township." Under Commander Howard Johnson, the Falls Legionnaires are preparing for a vast membership increase this coming year with an expansion to their Post home on Yardley avenue. The new extension will be used for kitchen space.

President John Melvin, of the Post's Home Association, which owns the building, has called a meeting of the group for Sept. 27. Members of the Falls Post and its Auxiliary are Association members.

Crusade

On Wednesday evening of this week the Bucks County United Community Fund board of directors will meet at Sellersville for its quarterly session and affairs of the vitally important upcoming campaign will be discussed.

Meantime, plans for the big Lower Bucks campaign kickoff dinner to be held Monday evening, October 1, at Edgely Fire hall are being advanced by a committee under the leadership of Stephen Midouhas with all campaign leaders and workers expected to attend. Program for this affair is being arranged and it promises to be outstanding.
